What Is VA Disability Compensation?

Disability compensation is a monthly benefit paid to veterans for disabilities incurred or aggravated during military service. The amount of benefit varies based on the degree of your disabilities and the number of your dependents. Entitlement is established from the date of separation if your claim is filed within one year following separation from service. Receipt of military longevity or disability retirement, disability severance pay, or separation incentives can affect the amount of VA compensation paid.

What VA Health Care Benefits Are Available?

VA provides free health care to veterans with combat service for conditions possibly related to military service for a period of two years, beginning on the date of their separation from active military service. Additionally, one-time dental treatment is available up to 90 days following separation if you were not provided treatment within the 90-day period preceding your separation. VA health care is also available while on active duty in emergency situations and upon referral by military treatment facilities or TRICARE. Veterans with disabilities that VA determines are related to their military service are entitled to free lifetime health care for those disabilities and are assigned to priority groupings in the VA health care system.

What Is Important to Know About VA Insurance Benefits?

Servicemembers' Group Life Insurance (SGLI) is low-cost life insurance for servicemembers and reservists. Veterans Group Life Insurance (VGLI) is a program of post-separation insurance and allows servicemembers to convert their SGLI coverage to renewable term insurance. If you have an SGLI policy and are totally disabled when you separate from service, you may be able to keep your SGLI coverage for up to 2 years at no cost. Traumatic Servicemembers' Group Life Insurance (TSGLI) is a disability rider to the SGLI program that provides automatic traumatic injury coverage to all servicemembers covered under the SGLI program who experience certain severe losses due to traumatic injuries. If you have suffered such a loss, call 1-800-419-1473 to learn how to make a claim for the TSGLI benefit.

What Other Disability-Related Benefits Are Available?

Automobile Allowance - Servicemembers and veterans may be eligible for financial assistance to purchase a vehicle and/or adapt a vehicle to accommodate certain qualifying disabilities (e.g., loss or permanent loss of use of one or both hands or one or both feet and certain other mobility or vision impairments) incurred during active military service.

Vocational Rehabilitation and Employment (VR&E) - Servicemembers awaiting discharge from the service because of a disability may be eligible for VR&E services to assist in becoming suitably employed or achieving independence in daily living. An individualized rehabilitation program is developed based on your needs and abilities. Additional information is available at <http://www.vba.va.gov/bln/vre>.

Home Modifications - VA has programs available to help veterans with certain disabilities acquire a home with special features to accommodate their disability-related needs or to make special adaptations to their existing homes.
